

BROTHERS
INDICTEDPeter C. and T. Jenkins Hains
For Killing

W. E. ANNIS IN AUGUST

The Grand Jury Reported To-day After Having a Short Session Yesterday, When Coroner Was Heard.

New York, Oct. 17.—Captain Peter C. Hains and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, were indicted by the grand jury for killing William E. Annis at the Bay Side Yacht club last August, according to a statement by District Attorney Martin just before the grand jury was called this morning. A short session only of the grand jury was held yesterday. Coroner Ambler was the first witness called yesterday before the grand jury. Dr. Ambler had with him a document which is believed to have been a signed statement made in the hospital by the victim of the crime, of which Capt. Peter C. Hains and his brother, T. Jenkins Hains, stand accused, and it is thought he submitted to the jury the ante-mortem statement.

HE LIES! LIES! LIES!

Says Nathan Straus in Becoming Language of Sheldon.

New York, Oct. 17.—"The Republican national treasurer Sheldon lies. He lies when he says that money is not being collected by his agents from brokers in Wall street," said Nathan Straus, the philanthropist and chairman of the Business Men's League of clubs to-day. "That's the difference between the present campaign and the one in 1904. In that campaign when candidate Parker accused President Roosevelt of receiving Wall street aid, Roosevelt did not know that he lied when he denied the assertion. Sheldon knows he lies when he says that brokers have not been assessed $5,000 each by the Republican national committee."

WARREN G. REYNOLDS.

Largely Attended Funeral Held in Burlington.

Burlington, Oct. 17.—The funeral of the late Warren G. Reynolds was held yesterday at the First Church. The Rev. J. E. Goodrich officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Smart of Brandon. The employees of the W. G. Reynolds company attended in a body and there was a large representation of business and professional men. The Masonic fraternity turned out in large numbers. Washington lodge acted as escort. The bearers were George H. Kinsley, A. D. Pease, George F. Bell, F. C. Lyon, R. D. Burton and W. B. Howe. Included in the tributes were an emblematic piece from the 33rd degree Masons of Burlington, a handsome piece from Washington lodge and a floral pillow from the employees of the W. G. Reynolds company. The funeral was generally suspended during the funeral.

AT WORK AS USUAL.

Berlin Paper Makers Do Not Obey Strike Order.

Berlin, Oct. 17.—The papermakers employed at the Cascade and Riverside mills in the city of Berlin, N. H., are at work as usual. They were ordered to strike in a telegram received Wednesday from President Carey of the International Brotherhood of Papermakers went to work as usual yesterday.

The papermakers held a meeting yesterday afternoon and after a lengthy discussion it was decided to defer all action until Sunday, when another meeting will be held. The men will work as usual today. No further communications were received from President Carey today.

PROBABLY DROWNED.

Two German Aeronauts Whose Balloons Were Picked Up.

Yarmouth, England, Oct. 17.—The death of Lieutenant Foerster and Hummel, the crew of the German balloon Hegeressell, was practically secured today by the arrival of a Norwegian steamship Naddo which brought in the Hegeressell balloon, found floating half-deflated a hundred miles northwest of Hjelgeland. There was no trace of the aeronauts.

THREATEN ALPENA CITY.

Flames Are Still Spreading in Northern Michigan.

Detroit, Oct. 17.—Forest fires are still raging in northern Michigan. Alpena City is again in great danger. A relief train attempted to make its way out of Cheboygan last night but was forced to turn back. Many small towns are cut off from communication. They may have suffered the fate of Metz.

TYPHOON KILLS 300.

Terrible Havoc in One Chinese City Thursday.

Amoy, China, Oct. 17.—Reports from Chang Chow say that more than three hundred lives were lost in that city during a typhoon last Thursday.

"Vote as You Think."

Statesville, N. C., Oct. 17.—An audience which filled the opera house to overflowing heard Taft speak today and more than 5,000 attended an open air meeting addressed by Ex-Secretary Shaw. He discussed business conditions and asked the voters of North Carolina to "Vote as they think."

DIES AS SPEECH IS APPLAUDED

J. C. Goodwin Stricken at Banquet Board-Haverhill Man Addressing The Gen. Burnside U. V. U.

Haverhill, Mass., Oct. 17.—As he finished an address before Gen. Burnside command, Union Veterans' Union, last night, John C. Goodwin, one of the best known of the older residents of the city, died in his place at the banquet table.

The veterans were holding their usual social session and when Mr. Goodwin was called upon he spoke briefly, and as he sat down he straightened up, dying of heart failure.

It was some few moments before his condition was noted and even as his speech was being applauded he died.

Comrades hurried to his assistance, but a physician pronounced him beyond aid.

THE FLEET IN TYPHOON.

Delayed Arrival at Tokio For Twenty-Four Hours.

Tokio, Oct. 17.—The delay of the American battleship fleet in arriving at Yokohama was due to a tremendous storm off the north coast of the Island of Luzon of the Philippine group. The storm began on the morning of October 12 and continued until the afternoon of October 13. One man was drowned and some damage resulted to the fleet.

The fleet will arrive at Yokohama at nine o'clock on the morning of October 18.

The wireless despatch from the battleship Connecticut was dated at 3:10 October 12 and was sent by way of Shimomura wireless station to this place. It did not give the details of the storm encountered by the fleet but simply stated that on the morning of October 12 the fleet ran into a terrific gale that assumed the proportion of a typhoon off the northern coast of Luzon. Tremendous seas were kicked up and one man was washed overboard. The despatch did not state from what ship the man was lost. There were some slight damage caused by the heavy seas, but nothing of a serious nature; and the despatch stated that all was well with the ships at that time, adding that the fleet would reach Yokohama on the morning of the 18th.

FLED BEFORE FIRE.
BISHOP WILLIAMS SAFE

He Got Out of Metz, Michigan, Just in Time to Escape Being Burned Up. He is Now in Cheboygan.

Detroit, Oct. 17.—Bishop Charles D. Williams of Detroit, who is in the fire district of Presque Isle county is safe at Cheboygan after being firebored two days in Hainesville. He escaped from Metz in a buggy shortly before the fire destroyed the town. He had a number of narrow escapes before he reached Cheboygan, which today is surrounded on three sides by fire.

MADE 'EM SMILE.

Tom Browne of Rutland, Looking Like Hughes, Traveled With Chanler.

New York, Oct. 17.—Lieut. Gov. Chanler campaigned by automobiles through West Chester county last night speaking at Yonkers, Mount Vernon and New Rochelle. At each place he was greeted by large and enthusiastic audiences. In all of his speeches the Democratic nominee for governor laid emphasis upon the fact that if elected he would support all of the laws of the state and see to their enforcement so far as it lay in the power of the executive to enforce them.

Democratic national committeeman Thomas Browne of Vermont, who bears a really recognized resemblance to Gov. Hughes, went with Mr. Chanler to Yonkers and sat upon the platform. The likeness to Mr. Chanler's opponent caused much comment and amusement.

TUG RAMMED STEAMER.

Great Panic Among Passengers of an Albany Line Boat.

New York, Oct. 17.—One man was drowned and 75 persons were thrown into a panic last night when the steamer New York of the Albany line, was rammed by the tug William H. Flannery in the North River. James Charles, captain of the tug, was killed and the tug was knocked overboard when the crash came and sank immediately.

In the excitement preparations were made to lower the lifeboats of the New York, although there was no danger of her sinking. The crew had difficulty in getting the frightened passengers. Captain Flannery of the tugboat was arrested on a charge of intoxication and criminal negligence. Neither boat was seriously damaged.

THE LEXINGTON RACES.

Ruth Dillon The Winner in The 2:15 Trot.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 17.—In the first event of yesterday's harness races, the favorite, Lady Jones finished second in the first two heats. Ruth Dillon taking both heats in handy style. The third heat went to Red Cross while Ruth Dillon took the fourth heat and the race. Louisa Jack won the 2:07 trot, taking the first and third heats.

The 2:00 pace went three heats. Tax Title, Red Foot and Will C. each taking a heat. The race will be finished tomorrow. The 2:00 pace was a runaway for the favorite, Alton Wilson, which won both heats.

PLAINFIELD.

Mr. Murray, general agent for the Stanley Machine Co., was in town Thursday.

The Plainfield creamery report for the month of September is as follows: number of pounds of milk 126,235; pounds of cream 24,331; pounds of butter 11,944. The patrons received twenty-eight and one half cents per pound for butter.

END SESSION
WITH ELECTION

Vermont Teachers Association at Rutland

ISAAC THOMAS PRESIDENT

The Treasury Has About $480 on Hand After Paying the Expenses of the Convention Just Ended.

Rutland, Oct. 17.—One of the most successful conventions of the Vermont Teachers' association ever held and the second largest in point of attendance closed at noon today here after three days' session. The business of the convention was given attention this morning, the election of officers and reading of reports taking place.

The election of officers just before adjournment resulted as follows: president, Principal Isaac Thomas of Rutland; vice-president, Principal A. E. Tuttle of Bellows Falls; secretary, Supt. F. J. Brown of Montpelier; treasurer, Principal D. T. Page of Bakerfield; executive committee, Principal E. G. Ham of Randolph, Supt. E. M. Rose of Springfield, and Principal George S. Wright of Northfield. The association has about $480 in the treasury after paying all the expenses of this convention.

The morning session opened with devotional services in charge of Rev. W. H. Spence of Rutland and the teachers then listened to an address by James Hays, superintendent of manual arts in the public schools of New York city. His topic was "The Value of Manual Training in Our Public Schools." He said in part as follows:

"Recent years have seen many changes in the school; the length of school life has increased; the school now expects to take entire charge of the education where before it dealt with only the simpler part. The country's needs have changed, too. More subjects must be known and the more time given to their teaching. The pupil is so busy with school that he has small opportunity to take part in or see community activities for while there has been a great industrial development the crafts once visible on every side have disappeared as local industries have been swallowed up and big factories with 'No Admission' signs have taken their place."

"The manual arts show to the child the value of joint work in the making of products which call for the labor of a number of hands. This may be seen on the primary and table where is built up the little town or hamlet of separate houses fashioned by different children. In developing plans laid out for him in this manner the child sees himself not as a mere pupil in school but as a member of society with a part of the work of the society on his shoulders."

"As eight out of ten boys who go through the public schools must later make their living with their hands it is to the state's interest that these boys get in their schooling ideas and aims which shall be other than clerical. If the arts are to play an important part of the school work they must be used in exercises of interest and value to the child and not allowed to dangle as a fringe on the edge of the curriculum. Drawing and design should be taught—not to make artists but to brighten children's skill of hands and give them the power of discrimination which we call taste."

Teachers' Club Elect Officers.

Covers were laid for a hundred at the annual banquet of the Vermont Schoolmasters' club last night. Principal A. E. Tuttle of Bellows Falls was president. The speakers were Mayor Henry O. Carpenter, President Harvey Kingsley of the Rutland board of education and A. W. Edson of New York. The following officers were elected: President, Principal E. D. Collins, Johnson; vice-president, Principal J. E. Collins, Fairfax; secretary-treasurer, Supt. C. D. Howe, Essex Junction; executive committee, Principal C. P. Howland of St. Johnsbury, Principal G. F. Spear of Bradford, Supt. B. L. Ingalls of Hartford.

The Vermont Schoolmasters' club last night elected these officers: President, Miss Jessie A. Judd, Bellows Falls; vice-president, Miss Amy Drake, St. Johnsbury; secretary and treasurer, Miss Etta Franklin, Rutland.

DEAD FOR CERTAINTY
IT IS NOW BELIEVED

Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia Again Said to Be Dead and This Time The Report Sounds More Like The Truth.

London, Oct. 17.—A report from Rome says that Emperor Menelik of Abyssinia is dead and that warfare is started over the succession. He has been reported dead several times before but the present rumor is credited as he was known to be suffering from an incurable malady.

STOCK MARKETS FEEL IT.

Reflect Pessimistic Tone About Balkan War Settlement.

London, Oct. 17.—Stock exchanges all over Europe are today reflecting a pessimistic outlook as to the success of the Balkan conference. The London market has slumped slowly but steadily since it became certain that Austria and Bulgaria would reject the terms of the proposed program and that Germany would stand with Austria in the latter's every contention.

CHAPMAN MEETINGS
THROUGHOUT THE STATE

Assignment of Evangelists and Singers to Cities and Towns Where Meetings Are to Be Held During Month of November.

The news just comes to hand that Rev. D. S. Toy, D. D., and Mr. Frank Dickson are to be the speaker and singer at the Chapman meetings to be held in Barre for the two weeks beginning Nov. 5. The assignment of speakers and singers through the state is as follows: For the series beginning Nov. 5, in addition to those at Barre: Burlington, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., and Mr. Chas. M. Alexander. Montpelier, Rev. Frank Granstaff, D. D., and Mr. O. F. Pugh. Middlebury, Rev. Ora Samuel Gray and Mr. Chas. F. Allen. Vergennes, Rev. Thomas Needham and Mr. John W. Reynolds. Newport, Rev. G. T. Schaffer and Mr. W. H. Collison.

Barton Landing, Rev. A. B. Davidson. Barton, Rev. J. O. Buswell and Mr. W. W. Weaver. For the series of meetings beginning Nov. 10 and closing Dec. 2, the evangelists are as follows: Brattleboro, Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman, D. D., and Mr. Charles M. Alexander. Bennington, Rev. Frank Granstaff, D. D., and Mr. O. F. Pugh. Brandon, Rev. J. H. Elliott, D. D., and Mr. W. H. Collison. Pittsford, Rev. C. T. Schaffer and Mr. W. H. Collison. North Hero, Rev. A. B. Davidson. Bellows Falls, Rev. D. S. Toy, D. D., and Mr. Frank Dickson. Fairhaven, Rev. J. O. Buswell and Mr. W. W. Weaver.

At the meetings just closed in Orilla, Ontario, a city of but 6,000 people, the attendance, beginning at a few hundred, steadily mounted up until it averaged over 2,000 per day. The same rate of attendance here at Barre would make three overflow meetings necessary to accommodate the crowds desiring to be present. And all this was in spite of a hot political campaign in progress at Orilla. But, as an Orilla paper put it, the political campaign there was "completely eclipsed" by the soul winning campaign.

DEAD IN HIS ENGINE
AT ROUSES POINT

St. Albans Man Killed in a Collision This Morning—He Leaves a Mother in New York.

St. Albans, Oct. 17.—H. Kittredge, a fireman on the Central Vermont railroad, was instantly killed early this morning at Rouses Point, N. Y., in a collision between his engine, a Central Vermont numbered 202, and a Delaware and Hudson engine numbered 535. Kittredge was acting as fireman for a special freight. His engine was backing onto a turntable when the collision occurred. The signal is said to have given a clear track for the Central Vermont engine.

Kittredge was standing on the deck of his engine and was caught between the tub and the boiler, being crushed to death. It was two hours before the body could be extricated. Neither engine was going fast so that the engines themselves were not injured very much. Kittredge had been working for the Central Vermont about six months. He was 25 years old and unmarried. He leaves his mother who resides in New York.

BLEW OPEN TWO SAFES
AND GOT BIG SUM

Burglars Ransack Store of Juan Robinson of South Hero and Leave No Clue.

South Hero, Oct. 17.—Burglars last night entered the general store of Juan Robinson and blew open two safes, one of which was the property of the post office and got away with a large sum of money, stamps, etc. The proprietor will not tell how much they secured.

This morning a large boulder was discovered on the Rutland railroad track near here. An early morning train collided with it and some damage was done to the locomotive. There is no clue to the miscreants or to the burglar.

DEATH OF REV. DR. GLYNN.

Had Been Chaplain at Fanny Allen Hospital For Last Six Months.

Burlington, Oct. 17.—The death of the Rev. Dr. Joseph Glynn, D. D., aged 63, occurred at the Fanny Allen hospital last evening after a long illness with heart disease.

The Rev. Dr. Glynn was born in Ireland, March 17, 1845. He received his early education in Tuam, Ireland, and completed his studies at the college of Propaganda, Rome, where he was ordained in 1870 by Cardinal Patrizzi of the Church of St. John Lateran. Following his ordination, Dr. Glynn spent eight years in missionary work in South Africa and then came to this country. He came to this diocese in 1879 and was stationed at Fair Haven as assistant rector for one year. He was then transferred to Fairfield, where he served one year and then returned to Fair Haven. For six months in 1900, he was the chaplain at St. Joseph's orphanage in North Haven where he remained until his death. He was also chaplain at the Fanny Allen hospital, where he was at the time of his death.

Dr. Glynn is survived by two brothers and two sisters. Both sisters are in religious orders. They are Sister Ambrose of Valley Falls, R. I., and Sister Anastasia of Holyoke, Mass. The brothers are William and Daniel, both of Brooklyn, N. Y.

26 TRUE BILLS

And One Not Found by the United States Grand Jury.

Rutland, Oct. 17.—The grand jury of the United States court to-day reported 26 true bills found and one not found.

UNDER ARREST,
KILLED SELF

William Moses Found Dead This Morning

HE TOOK CARBOLIC ACID

Yesterday Tunbridge Man Was Arrested on Charge of Sending "Black Hand" Letter to Elmer Woodward—Had Just Been Bound Over.

South Royalton, Oct. 17.—The body of William Moses was found in the hotel here this morning, and an empty bottle which had contained carbolic acid told the story of the death. Moses was in custody of Constable D. D. Howe of Randolph at the time, having been bound over to county court at a hearing yesterday on the charge of sending a "Black Hand" letter to Elmer Woodward of Tunbridge and having been unable to furnish the required bail of $500.

Several weeks ago a letter was dropped into the Woodward's yard. The letter demanded $500. It was signed, "Black Hand." Yesterday, Moses was arrested as the sender of the threat. He had previously been hounding the Woodward family, claiming that his mother had never received full payment for services in the household of the elder Woodward, father of Elmer. Within a year two sets of buildings belonging to the Woodward family in Tunbridge have been burned mysteriously, the first being the property of Wilbur Woodward and the second that of K. and Arundel Woodward. There was no evidence to connect Moses with these acts. This "Black Hand" letter to Elmer Woodward had threatened to destroy his property if $500 was not forthcoming.

The hearing of Moses on the charge of sending the "Black Hand" letter to Elmer Woodward was held yesterday before Justice C. B. Smith at the house of Ben Tucker in Tunbridge. Attorney Batchelder of Windsor appearing in behalf of the respondent. After hearing the testimony in the case, Justice Smith held Moses for county court and fixed the bail at $500. Because of his failure to secure the amount of the bail, Moses was placed in the custody of Constable Howe, and they stopped at the hotel last night.

Moses was 45 years of age and unmarried. He lived in Tunbridge, where he was engaged as a farmer and laborer. He has two brothers, one of whom lives in Tunbridge.

MONDAY AT ONE O'CLOCK.

The Legislators Are Getting Keyed Up to Necessity of Working.

The House and Senate were in session but a few minutes yesterday afternoon; but five bills were presented in the former and one in the latter. The first bill providing for plurality election of representatives, a measure that has been debated nearly every session from the committee appointed at the last session, was introduced in many of the places of the state every year. He made its appearance in the House. It was introduced by Mr. Calhoun of Middlebury, a town which indulged in several ballots this last election, it provides for plurality election after the first ballot.

Mr. Abbott of Stockbridge was the first to introduce "hedgework" legislation. His bill allowing a bounty of 30 cents was the occasion of a general snicker throughout the house.

Mr. Miller of Bethel presented a bill which strikes out intolerable severity as a cause for divorce. In the Senate, Senator Butler had a bill providing that three instead of five or more persons may incorporate by involuntary association.

Adjournment was taken until Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock.

DEFENSE OPENS.

In Trial of a $15,000 Damage Case from Quarries.

On the reopening of Washington county court at Montpelier this morning, the defense started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband, Herman Bullis, two years ago on the defendant's quarry. The opening point by the defense was that the negligence started in the case of Alce Burris, administratrix, against the Bontwell, Milne and Varnum company, for $15,000 damages for the death of her husband,